

Technical drawing of a beam cross-section. The total width is 1036. The top flange has a width of 744. The web has a thickness of 92. The top flange is divided into three sections: 300, 152, and 400. The bottom flange is divided into three sections: 400, 236, and 400. The cross-section is shown with hatching for the top flange and a cross-hatched pattern for the web.

