

This diagram illustrates the exploded view of a metal frame assembly. It features several rectangular frames of varying sizes, each constructed from multiple parallel metal strips. The strips are secured with numerous small, circular fasteners, likely rivets or bolts, arranged in a grid pattern. The frames are shown in a disassembled state, with some components offset to reveal the internal structure and the arrangement of the fasteners. The perspective is from an isometric view, showing the three-dimensional nature of the components.

USE RANGE			TOLERANCE		SURFACE		ARCHIVE		SCALE 1:5
							MATERIAL 1.4301		t=2mm
				DATE	NAME	DESCRIPTION
			DRAWN			DRAWING-NUMBER KV_01_Mantelblech_01					SHEET 1
			APPR.
			RLS.
01 Bohrungen reduziert											OF 2
INDEX DESCRIPTION			NAME ORIGINAL			LEXXCH.F.			LEXXCH.TH.		